Biographical Sketch:

My area of clinical practice is pediatric critical care medicine, serving as medical director of the Pediatric Intensive Care Unit (PICU) at Children's Hospital of New Orleans. The most rewarding aspect of my clinical position comes from providing a continuous educational experience during service in the PICU. It's real-time, it's hands on, and it's also what I am most comfortable doing. Now I'm trying to branch out.

Incorporating the use of pediatric mock codes to educate all healthcare providers and research this method as an educational tool has been an ongoing process with certain challenges. However, my most challenging work comes from the implementation of a continuous quality-improvement process to bring clinical best practices into reality in our PICU and hospital.
