Biographical Sketch:

I am a pediatric neurologist in the department of Neurology and my practice is based out of Children's Hospital. I teach 3rd and 4th year medical students, pediatric residents, neurology residents and neurology fellows in the classroom and clinical setting. The objective in my teaching is to make neurological topics less threatening and easier to understand and incorporate into everyday medicine. I am currently collaborating on a project with another Academy member of interactive cases that can be used with a variety of learners in a small group setting. We are currently evaluating the effectiveness of these teaching cases and plan to submit them to MedEdPortal for publication.

My outside activities include traveling, cooking and wine as well as staying busy with my husband and son.
