

CURRICULUM VITAE

LIONEL ANDREW BRANCH, JR., MD

Education:

College: Xavier University of Louisiana
New Orleans, Louisiana
Degree – BS Chemistry, June 1972

Graduate School: Virginia Polytechnic Institute & State University
Blacksburg, Virginia
Degree – MS Chemistry, March 1979

Thesis: The Constant Pressure Ensemble With Application to the Transition State Theory of Chemical Reaction Rates. (1979 Blacksburg, VI)

Medical School: University of Alabama School of Medicine
Birmingham, Alabama
Degree – MD June 1996

Military Service:

United States Army Medical Corps, 7/69 – 2/71

Work Experience:

8/1/2001 - Present LSU Health Sciences Center , Assistant Professor

8/1/2000 – 7/31/2001 LSU Medical Center, Neurology Stroke Fellow

7/1999 – 6/30/2000 LSU Medical Center, Neurology Residency
House Officer IV,

7/1998 - 7/1999 LSU Medical Center, Neurology Residency
House Officer III,

7/97 – 7/98 LSU Medical Center, Neurology Residency
House Officer II,

7/96 – 7/97 Transitional Residency Tulane Medical Center,

3/78 – 3/84 United States Army Aviation Center,

9/83 – 3/84 New Orleans Public Schools, Instructor,

1/83 – 9/83

New Orleans Sewerage and Water Board
Water Chemist,

7/79 – 10/82

Tulane University Research Associate,

Professional Memberships:

American Neurological Society

National Medical Society

American Medical Society

American Chemical Society