

Colette Baudoin
Instructor, Clinical Nursing

Education

LSU Health New Orleans, Ph.D candidate - nursing, Present

Nicholls State University, master of science – nursing, 2018

Southern University – undergraduate - 1986

University of New Orleans – undergraduate - 1986

Colette Baudoin Ph. D., MSN, RN, OCN, CNE, is an instructor in the adult health course at LSU Health New Orleans School of Nursing. She obtained her Bachelor of Science in nursing from Louisiana State University School of Nursing in 1989 and her Master in Science of Nursing from Nicholls State University in 2018. She is currently working toward achieving her Doctor of Nursing Science at Louisiana State University School of Nursing.

Baudoin is a Certified Nurse Educator and Oncology Certified Nurse and most currently has worked as the Oncology Nurse Educator and Quality and Safety. She is the faculty liaison for the School of Nursing for CIPECP. She serves as the President of the New Orleans Oncology Nurses' Association and Treasurer of Sigma Theta Tau Honor Society.

Her research interests and focus are on the oncology patient population and end-of-life care. Past experiences include working in not only oncology, but also home health and pediatric nursing.