Source of Negative Behaviors – 2016 Medical School Graduation Questionnaire (GQ)

LSU Sch of Med New Orleans

On the 2016 GQ, respondents were asked about their personal experience with 16 negative behaviors during medical school. Students who reported experiencing a behavior one or more times were asked a follow-up question regarding who had engaged in that behavior directed at them. The table below, which corresponds to items 41 and 42 in the 2016 GQ Reports, shows the responses from your school’s students; the data presented are the number of students who reported each type of person engaging in each behavior.

Behaviors Directed at You: You indicated that you personally experienced the following behavior(s) during medical school. Please indicate below which person(s) engaged in the behavior that was directed at you. Check all that apply.
