

From Cell to Society

2017

KI'S NEW PROFESSORS ON THEIR RESEARCH
MEET THE PRIZEWINNERS

Karolinska Institutet

In order to strengthen its international network of contacts, Karolinska Institutet is appointing well-reputed colleagues from abroad as foreign adjunct professors. Their association with Karolinska Institutet must be one of long-standing international collaboration or scientific exchange.

A foreign adjunct professor must hold a position or an appointment corresponding to "full professor" at their home university or elsewhere, and be an internationally leading researcher in his or her field. The term of office normally lasts six years and can be extended upon review. The appointment does not entail any financial undertakings.

Photo: Darryl Schmitt

Nicolas G Bazan

Foreign Adjunct Professor of Neuroscience

Home university

Neuroscience Center of Excellence, School of Medicine,
Louisiana State University Health, USA

Department at KI

Department of Neurobiology, Care Sciences and Society