

- PEDI 420 – Elective – Gastroenterology & Nutrition

- o The student will participate in the care of patients with conditions related to gastroenterology, hepatology, and nutrition. Students will round daily with the inpatient GI service, attend GI clinics, observe special procedures including endoscopy, liver biopsy, and manometry, and participate in department didactics and conferences. Evaluations will be performed by faculty, fellows, and house officers based on daily observations.