#NationalAdolescentHealthMonth

#HealthyYouthNAHM

May is National Adolescent Health Month

During NAHM, empower youth with sexual and reproductive health information and services

Join the Office of Population Affairs during National Adolescent Health Month to give teens the sexual and reproductive health information and services they need to make informed decisions about their health. During adolescence, youth grow physically, try new activities, begin to think more critically, and develop more varied and complex relationships. Ensuring adolescent health requires giving youth the sexual and reproductive health information and services they need to empower healthy decision-making.

During Adolescent Health Month we want to highlight the work of students, faculty and and other partners of The Southern Center.

Victoria Huynh is an LSU Medical Student and Board Member for the New Orleans Adolescent Reproductive Health Project (NOARHP). Victoria is currently an NIH Medical Research Scholar focusing her investigation on aspects of Pediatric and Adolescent Gynecology. Victoria has had the opportunity to participate in a number of projects at the NIH and recently updated us on this work:

“So far, I have completed three poster presentations, attended three conferences, am publishing a book chapter, and about to start writing two manuscripts. This is not including the many other projects involving pelvic masses, PCOS, ovarian genomics, and primary ovarian insufficiency that I am still working on. I have done quantitative, qualitative, clinical, and translational research, and I am very excited to use these newly acquired skills in my future as a physician-scientist. Thank you for your continued support! I look forward to coming back to LSUHSC in July to begin my final year in medical school!”

Victoria, her NOARHP colleagues, and students across LSUHSC are doing amazing work to improve health and community here in Louisiana and across the country. We are excited to support Victoria and others who are working to improve the health of adolescents and young adults through The Southern Center for Adolescent and Young Adult Health Equity. Happy Adolescent Health Month.

Camp Tiger 2022 is a Go!
From Dr. Kyle Fulton

I am the medical director for Camp Tiger and would love to have residents or faculty that are on elective or have admin time to come hangout for some time to see kids outside a clinic.

Camp Tiger for those that don't know is a day camp for kids unable to attend other traditional camps. It is 100% planned, fundraised, and run by the first-year medical students at LSU.

This year it will be May 23-27th, and due to COVID is quite a bit smaller than normal. However will still have 50+ campers each with an L1 and future L1 counselor.

Each day of the week we meet at LSUHSC main campus at ~7:30a and bus to different places around the area (zoo, aquarium, Global Wildlife, Children's Museum).

This year as well we will be doing Thursday morning at State Street Campus with activities in Worley Hall and the yard.

To sign up or ask more questions email gfulto@lsuhsc.edu or text (870.761.3682)

All faculty is welcome to come out even if it is just for a morning or afternoon!!!
-Kyle

Spread the Word: Adolescent Medicine Division is Recruiting a Part-time School Nurse

The Division of Adolescent Medicine is asking the department to spread the word about an opening for a Part-Time School Nurse at one of their school-based health centers.

This position is based in the school-based health clinics in conjunction with an agreement between the State of Louisiana Department of Health and Hospitals and LSUHSC. The Incumbent will facilitate the timely access of on-site medical services and resources to students at the clinic. Services provided will be routine and preventative as well as for acute situations. Incumbent will administer care for both the physical and psychosocial well-being of students This position will be mostly located in New Orleans East but will require some local travel.

Please share the official posting with anyone you think may be interested and ask them to apply!

May Video: Clinical Teaching Simplified

As we continue our mission of providing excellent medical education, check out this video. It provides a simple, efficient and effective method of teaching medical students and residents in a variety of clinical settings. It addresses major concerns (TIME!) and provides practical tips, and there are great references for those who would like to learn more.
