A Message from the Dean

A Message from the Dean

We all understand that these are difficult economic times and fiscal challenges are not unique to Louisiana. Medical schools and institutes of higher learning throughout the country are facing similar challenges. Access to a strong public education system creates opportunity and growth for all of our citizens. This is particularly important when it comes to medical education in Louisiana, where the vast majority of health care professionals are trained within the LSU system. Furthermore, our economic future will be built on a foundation of innovation and creativity that will be knowledge-based and can only succeed if we enjoy a robust and vibrant education system that all of our students can access. We have taken great strides forward in advancing the three core missions of our school – research, clinical care, education and training – during these past few years. We are expanding our research efforts and have significantly increased extramural funding. We continue to serve the uninsured and under-insured as we have throughout our history. We have a new multispecialty enterprise located on St. Charles Avenue and have grown our yearly patient visits fourfold. Applications for our school are at their highest level and we continue to attract Louisiana's best and brightest to our institution. As we continue our drive for excellence we welcome the Governor's support, which will benefit all of Louisiana.

Sincerely,

 Steve Nelson, MD, Dean
LSUHSC School of Medicine

To the Alumni Office

The scholarship that was provided will truly impact my year in an extraordinary way. I cannot articulate how thankful I am for the work that you and your colleagues do in order to help our students. This scholarship will inevitably make my life less stressful during the upcoming, challenging school year. I am truly honored.

Thank you again...

Honor Roll

To the Alumni Office

I would like to take this opportunity to thank you and the entire alumni association for selecting me for the a scholarship! Thank you for recognizing my hard work and dedication throughout medical school in the midst of so many qualified students. It is truly an honor to be selected.

Thank you....

To the Alumni Office

Thank you for selecting me to receive a scholarship. I greatly appreciate the honor and the monetary award. The reception was also a very nice experience and my family really enjoyed it. As all of you know, this 4th year can be very expensive, especially when you have a family to support as I do. I can assure you the money will be put to much-needed good use. Thank you again for giving back and contributing to my journey to physicianship.

Sincerely...

Honor Roll

LAMMICO Scholarship Recipient

For the past 11 years, LAMMICO has awarded a merit scholarship to an incoming medical student. This year's recipient for the LSU School of Medicine in New Orleans is Katie Veron (center). She is pictured with Fred W. Kirchgraber, Vice President, Business Development, LAMMICO, and Cathi Fontenot ('84), Associate Dean for Alumni Affairs and Development.

To the Alumni Office

I just wanted to thank you and the LSU Medical Alumni Association for selecting me to receive a Scholarship for the 2010/2011 academic year. I am very appreciative of this award as it will certainly help me with my school expenses this year. It is an honor to receive this scholarship in memory of a physician who certainly had a big role in making this school what it is today.

Sincerely...

The Rrrroaring '20s - Purple & Gold Gala

The LSU School of Medicine Alumni Association celebrated its 6th Annual Purple and Gold Gala on October 15, 2011, at the Marriott New Orleans. Silent and live auctions featured artwork, sports paraphernalia and vacation resorts. Entertainment by the Jimmy Maxwell Orchestra provided opportunities for dancing and second lines. Photographs from the Gala are featured below and on pages 19 - 21.

SAVE THE DATE for next year's Gala on Friday, October 19, 2012, at the Hyatt Regency New Orleans. For more information, see page 21.

LSU Medical Alumni Association 7th Annual Purple and Gold Gala SECOND LINES TO THE SUPER BOWL IN NEW ORLEANS

Mike the Tiger cordially invites you to join faculty, students, classmates and friends at the 7th Annual LSU Medical Alumni Association Purple and Gold Gala — as we second line to the Super Bowl in New Orleans on Friday, October 19, 2012.

The venue for this year's Gala will be the Hyatt Regency New Orleans, 601 Loyola Avenue. To say that this is a beautifully remodeled, contemporary hotel is an understatement. The hotel has just re-opened since Katrina. Entertainment will be by the world famous Vince Vance and the Valiants.

Get a table together and make a weekend trip. You can attend the Gala on Friday and, on Saturday, watch LSU play at Kentucky in the Hyatt's Vitascope Hall, a state-of-the-art entertainment area with 25 flat screen TV's. Cuisine offered is Louisiana seafood, sushi, sashimi, burgers and more and some of Louisiana's best crafted beer and cocktails.

You can take the newly installed streetcar line on Loyola Avenue, which stops right across the street from the Hyatt, transfer at Canal and go to the French Quarter and French Market for some great shopping and restaurants.

The New Orleans Saints will be playing Sunday, and if you have tickets and it's a home game, you can simply walk to the Mercedes-Benz Superdome or watch the game in Champions Square. The schedule won't be out until early spring.

Our goal this year is to have each class purchase at least one table. Call some classmates and reserve a table or two. Each table seats ten.

The Gala will be bigger and better in 2012. The profit will be used to support medical school alumni activities and our students – the future of medical care in Louisiana.

Medical Student Research Day

In 2011, for the first time, a research day was dedicated solely to medical students. Freshman, sophomore and junior students presented the data from their research. Organized by Dr. Paula Gregory, Medical Student Research Day is designed to showcase the accomplishments of LSU School of Medicine medical students and to provide them with the opportunity to present their projects to fellow students and faculty. The day consisted of poster presentations followed by a talk by the invited speaker, concluding with student oral presentations.

The keynote address was given by alumnus Vinodh Narayanan ('81) from the Barrow Neurological Clinic in Phoenix, AZ. Dr. Narayanan is the Co-Director of the Pediatric Neurogenetics Center, the Director of the Neurofibromatosis Clinics and the Director of the Developmental Neurogenetics Lab. In his talk, "Percent Effort: Life as a Clinician Scientist," he discussed both his research and his career path.

Nisha Loganantharaj (L2) won Best Poster Presentation for her poster "Effects of chronic alcohol consumption on the genital microenvironment in SIV-infected Rhesus Macaques." The Best Oral Presentation was given by Amanda Henne (L2) for "Novel regulatory mechanism of the inflammatory response mediated by the messenger NPD1 targeting transcription of Wnt5a." The winners received travel scholarships from Dean Nelson and will present at the National Student Research Forum in Galveston, TX. The LSU Medical Alumni Association provided the funding for the day.

Faculty News

Martin J. Drell, MD, the Carl Adatto Professor of Community Psychiatry and Head of Infant, Child and Adolescent Psychiatry at LSUHSC-NO School of Medicine, has been installed as President of the American Academy of Child and Adolescent Psychiatry (AACAP.) Dr. Drell has been actively involved in the AACAP for the past 25 years, having served in many capacities, including President-Elect, Treasurer (two terms), Assembly Chair (two terms), at-large member of the Council, Chair of the Infancy Committee. Dr. Drell has also served as President of the American Association of Directors of Psychiatric Residency Training, and the Society of Professors of Child and Adolescent Psychiatry. He joined the faculty of LSUHSC-NO's School of Medicine in 1987.

Tumor Registry at LSUHSC Earns Top Honor

The Louisiana Tumor Registry at the LSUHSC-NO School of Public Health is one of four cancer registries in the National Cancer Institute's Surveillance, Epidemiology and End Results (SEER) Program earning a 2011 First Place Data Quality Profile Award. The SEER Program is the most authoritative source of information on cancer incidence and survival in the United States.

The SEER Program evaluates the quality of data from each registry every year. Last year 16 measures were selected for evaluation, including the estimated completeness of cases (for computing incidence rate), percent unknown or missing for key demographic and tumor variables, and follow-up rates (for calculating survival). Of the 17 SEER registries in the United States, only 4 met all 16 data quality goals set by the National Cancer Institute.

This is the third time LSUHSC's Louisiana Tumor Registry has earned a First Place Award and the second consecutive year.

"This honor not only recognizes the commitment to high quality of my staff here at the LSUHSC School of Public Health, but the dedicated efforts of the staffs of the regional registries and hospital registries throughout the state with whom we collaborate," notes Dr. Vivien Chen, Professor and Director of the Louisiana Tumor Registry at LSU Health Sciences Center New Orleans School of Public Health.

The primary function of a cancer registry is to record the occurrence of cancer in a population. Information collected includes demographic data, tumor type, stage of disease, and treatment. Information on risk factors is usually not available from the reporting sources. However, data from the registry often provides clues to be pursued in special research studies conducted by qualified scientists with external funding.

The SEER Program collects cancer incidence and survival data from 17 population-based cancer registries in the United States. It is considered to be the standard for quality among cancer registries around the world. Quality control has been an integral part of SEER since its inception.

Cancer is a reportable disease in the State of Louisiana. Hospitals, private pathology laboratories, radiation centers and health care providers who diagnose or treat cancer are required by law to report the cancer cases to the Louisiana Tumor Registry which was transferred from the Louisiana Office of Public Health to LSUHSC- NO in 1995. The Registry includes the central office, located at the LSUHSC-NO School of Public Health, and eight regional offices –

Regions I and III at LSUHSC-NO; Region II at Mary Bird Perkins Cancer Center in Baton Rouge; Region IV at Acadiana Medical Research Foundation in Lafayette; Region V at Christus St. Patrick Hospital of Lake Charles; and Regions VI, VII and VIII at the University of Louisiana at Monroe. Each regional registry is responsible for ascertaining all cancer cases from all possible sources in its region. The central office consolidates, processes, edits, compiles, and analyzes the data as well as ensures complete, timely and high quality data.

Research Discovers Potentially Deadly Fungus Senses Body's Defenses to Evade Them

Glen Palmer, PhD, Assistant Professor of Microbiology, Immunology & Parasitology at LSUHSC-NO, was part of an international research team led by Luigina Romani, MD, at the University of Perugia, that discovered opportunistic fungi like Candida albicans can sense the immune status of host cells and adapt, evading immune system defenses. Unlike previous studies, this research investigated both sides of the infection equation as well as the interaction between the fungi and the cells they will invade. The findings are published online in Nature Communications in the most recent articles section (February 21, 2012).

This study demonstrates that this process is much more elaborate and complex than previously understood. The researchers determined that C. albicans binds to the host immune signaling molecule, Interleukin (IL) 17A, which permits the fungus to navigate and tolerate the active immune environment of healthy host tissue, mounting effective countermeasures. IL-17A may also contribute to disease susceptibility by modifying the intrinsic virulence of the fungus. This study provides molecular evidence that by exploiting

IL-17A, the fungus not only survives, but can cause disease to develop.

“It’s a bit like the fungus is listening in to the conversations our immune system is having so it can best determine how to react and survive in our tissues. This may also be a crucial step in determining when this opportunist decides to invade host tissue and cause life-threatening disease in an immunosuppressed patient,” notes Dr. Palmer.

According to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, there are more than 20 species of Candida yeasts that can cause infection in humans, the most common of which is Candida albicans. Candida yeasts normally live on the skin and mucous membranes without causing infection; however, overgrowth of these organisms can cause symptoms to develop. Symptoms of candidiasis vary depending on the area of the body that is infected. Candidiasis that develops in the mouth or throat is called “thrush” or oropharyngeal candidiasis. Candidiasis in the vagina is commonly referred to as a “yeast infection.” Invasive candidiasis occurs when Candida species enter the bloodstream and spread throughout the body. Candidemia (a bloodstream infection with Candida), is extremely rare in people without risk factors, but it is the fourth most common bloodstream infection among hospitalized patients in the United States.

“Disrupting or manipulating the fungal sensing of these host molecules could trick the fungus, essentially suppressing an infection, or enabling us to eliminate this potentially dangerous fungus before it causes problems,” concludes Dr. Palmer.

The research team also included scientists from the University of Perugia, Perugia, Italy, University Complutense, Madrid, Spain, University of Lausanne, Switzerland, University of Göttingen, Göttingen, Germany, and Institut Pasteur, Paris, France.

This work is supported by the Specific Targeted Research Project ALLFUN and by the Fondazione per la Ricerca sulla Fibrosi Cistica.

News item from Leslie Capo, Director of Information Services, LSUHSC-NO – February 22, 2012

Greetings to All,

The times, they remain interesting if not also entertaining. As we find ourselves immersed in the mundane politics leading up to the November election, Israel and Iran are locked in a terse struggle pertaining to Iran's nuclear development strategy. The Euro apparently will survive while the US debt knows no bounds.

Nevertheless, your alumni board presses forward in significantly reducing its debt relative to the Center for Advanced Practice. Simultaneously the board members continually embrace the future for additional undertakings. At our last meeting Mark Juneau ('73) eloquently spoke of our need for a mission or undertaking that keeps us focused on new and expanding projects. I could not agree more.

On behalf of the LSU Medical Alumni Association I extend an enthusiastic appreciation to all who worked so fervently at making the last Purple and Gold Gala a huge success. To all who made contributions and for those who attended, many thanks as well. Don't forget to mark your calendar for the 7th Annual Purple and Gold Gala slated for October 19, 2012, at the Hyatt Regency New Orleans. Vince Vance and Valiants will perform.

Please remember the reunions scheduled for this summer on June 8-9th 2012. Members of Classes '46, '52, '55, '57, '62, '67, '72, '77, '82, '87, '92, '97, and '02 will be recognized.

Also the Eighteenth Annual LSU Medical Alumni Golf Classic will take place during the reunion and is scheduled for June 8th, with registration at 8:00 AM at the Chateau Golf and Country Club. John McLachlan ('62) and Mack Thomas ('62) are the co-chairs.

Finally I wish to persuade each of you to encourage friends and previous classmates to become active in medical alumni affairs. Please feel free to contact me or Cathi Fontenot ('84) for any questions. We'll be celebrating the Super Bowl in New Orleans!

Sincerely,

Lee R. Domangue ('76)
President
LSU Medical Alumni Association

The Louisiana State Medical Society recognized Thomas J. Kennedy ('77), of Metairie, Friday, January 27, at its annual House of Delegates Meeting in Baton Rouge with the LSMS Physician Award for Community Service. The award was established to provide recognition to a member who is actively involved in community and civic activities above and beyond their responsibilities in the practice of medicine.

Kennedy is a founding member of the New Orleans Medical Mission Services, founded in 2002. There, he volunteers as vice president and serves as medical director. He also participates in medical missions to care for underprivileged populations in neighboring countries, including Ecuador, Nicaragua, Panama and Honduras. He has helped the organization grow to more than 500 volunteers, which includes many LSMS physicians, and undertakes two to four medical missions each year. In the 48 hours after Hurricane Katrina, he contributed medical supplies and assistance and has since engaged in a number of charitable activities, including providing 80,000 meals for the poor to Second Harvest Food Bank.

From your Alumni Office. . .

Dear All,

I am pleased to report that your Alumni Office is keeping busy. Our generous alumni continue to support the School of Medicine with contributions to various professorships, chairs and scholarships. Recently, I was contacted by a family member who wanted to raise funds to start a scholarship in his brother's name, Mike Wheelis ('87), as a celebration of Mike's 50th birthday. What a fabulous way to celebrate the occasion and honor a medical student.

The Alumni Office has been actively involved in support of several medical-student projects, including the Student Run Homeless Clinics, Camp Tiger, Match Day Activities, and an Awards Ceremony for the Rural Track Students.

In many ways, the School of Medicine is stronger than ever, although constant budget threats remain. The quantity and quality of medical school applicants are higher than ever and our students continue to match for residencies at some very prestigious training programs.

Reunion weekend will be held on Friday and Saturday, June 8 and 9, and will honor the classes of '46, '52, '55, '57, '62, '67, '72, '77, '82, '87, '92, '97, and '02. The Scientific Session on June 9 will feature topics eligible for CME. The Committee of 100 – Champions of Excellence Banquet will be held on Thursday, June 7.

Our Annual Fall Gala is scheduled for Friday, October 19, 2012, and will be themed "LSU Second Lines to the Super Bowl in New Orleans."

As always, thanks for your support. Please feel free to call or stop by this office when you are in town. I would love to show you around the campus.

Sincerely,
