Adolescent Medicine and Gender Health Clinic

Our Adolescent Medicine and Gender Health Clinic addresses the unique developmental and reproductive health needs of adolescents and young adults 10 to 25 years of age. We designed this clinic to ensure primary care and specialty providers have access to the best comprehensive care available to their patients. Our clinicians have over 20 years of dedicated adolescent and reproductive health experience. Our team works to build a strong therapeutic alliance with patients and their families.

The Adolescent Medicine and Gender Health Clinic provides consultation on an array of health issues facing young people, including:

- Male and female reproductive health visits
- Evaluation and treatment of menstrual disorders
- Contraception, pregnancy prevention, and options counseling
- Sexually transmitted infection testing, treatment, and prevention counseling
- Gender Health
  - Multidisciplinary care consisting of adolescent medicine, endocrine, psychology, and plastic surgery
- Outpatient medical management of eating disorders
- Outpatient medical management of mild to moderate anxiety or depression
- Sports, school, camp, and work physicals

Dr. Sandlin Presents at APPD's Fall Meeting

The screenshot shows a Zoom meeting window. The main content is a presentation slide with a blue background and white text. The slide title is "Required Rotations & Trainee Scheduling". It is divided into two sections: "Rotations" and "Schedules". The "Rotations" section lists three bullet points: "Check RRC, individual program requirements", "Residents: Individualized Curriculum - 6 months", and "Update Goals & Objectives then distribute". The "Schedules" section lists four bullet points: "Block Schedules (12 mo vs. 13 4-week blocks)", "Set schedule request deadlines", "ABP: 48 weeks/ academic year", and "Medical/ Personal leave". There is a small cartoon illustration of a person at a desk with a sign that says "TOURS". The Zoom interface includes a top bar with "Zoom Meeting", "You are viewing David Stagliano's screen", and "View Options". A bottom toolbar shows "Unmute", "Start Video", "Participants" (159), "Chat", "Share Screen", "Record", and "Reactions". A small video window on the right shows a woman, identified as Chelsey Sandlin, speaking. The Windows taskbar at the bottom shows the search bar and various application icons. The system tray in the bottom right corner shows the time as 11:27 AM on 10/14/2020.

Residency Program Director Dr. Chelsey Sandlin spoke at the annual Association of Pediatric Program Directors Fall Meeting last week. She collaborated with several other APPD program directors to give a talk geared to new program leadership. Their presentation was titled "Program Maintenance: A Year on the USS Pediatrics". Dr. Sandlin also presented at LSU GME's quarterly Council on Resident Education meeting last week. DIO Dr. Charles Hilton asked her to present recent changes made to the residency program's website as virtual recruitment season nears.

Reminder from Assistant Vice Chancellor for Information Technology Regarding Use of Non-LSUHSC Email

We have recently seen a significant increase in compromised accounts being configured to automatically forward mail to external and potentially malicious e-mail addresses. This morning we learned of a possible data breach related to this issue, although we are still working to identify the extent to which LSUHSC may have been impacted, if at all. To protect Office 365 mail clients, Microsoft recently sent an announcement about their own plans to disable auto-forwarding. In accordance with CM-42, which states that “All users of the SYSTEM IT infrastructure shall NOT: Use non-LSUHSC e-mail to conduct official LSUHSC business unless authorized by the Chancellor,” as well as our compliance training mandating that users not automatically forward mail externally without authorization, external auto-forwarding was blocked for all accounts effective immediately. We thank you for your understanding.

COVID Reminders from Dr. Richard DiCarlo

New COVID cases have risen nationally over the last four weeks, and there is concern about another surge as schools resume in person classes and we continue plans for phase III reopening. There have also been some recent positive cases on campus. This is hardly the time for us to become complacent! Faculty and staff must strictly adhere to the following:

1. Do not come to work if you have any symptoms that could be indicative of COVID. If your symptoms are moderate to severe in nature, please seek medical attention and COVID testing. If you have questions about when it is safe to return to work, please call the Campus Health Clinic (504 412-1995).
2. Do not come to work if you were recently exposed to someone with COVID. If you have a known exposure to COVID you should self-quarantine for 14 days. You should continue the quarantine even if you have a negative COVID test, as we know that there are 15-20% false negatives. Please follow the campus guidelines: <https://911.lsuhs.edu/coronavirus/campus-guidelines.aspx> Again, if you have questions about when it is safe to return to work, please call the Campus Health Clinic.
3. If you have a positive COVID test, stay home and notify your supervisor as soon as possible so we can 1) determine if you exposed any other employees who will need to self-quarantine from campus, and 2) disinfect your workspace as indicated. Please also notify the Campus Health Clinic and follow the campus guidelines regarding when it is safe to return to work. <https://911.lsuhs.edu/coronavirus/campus-guidelines.aspx>

There is ample information about COVID and campus resources on the LSUHSC coronavirus information page <https://911.lsuhs.edu/coronavirus/>. It is everyone’s responsibility to keep the campus, our offices, and our friends and colleagues as safe as possible.

Thanks for your patience and cooperation as we continue to work under difficult conditions.

Richard

Webinar Series: The Impact of Skin Color and Ethnicity on Clinical Diagnosis and Research

NEJM Group Education and Applied Knowledge is collaborating with the Skin of Color Society Foundation (a nonprofit with a mission of education, mentoring, and research in skin of color) and VisualDx (the leading visual clinical decision support system) on a series of virtual panel discussions that call attention to health disparities and structural racism in medicine. The free, four-part webinar series, The Impact of Skin Color and Ethnicity on Clinical Diagnosis and Research, will delve into longstanding problems in education, research, and patient care, and will introduce ways to improve outcomes in marginalized patients. Sessions include:

1. “Structural Racism and Racial Bias in Medicine,” Wednesday, October 28 at 1:00 pm ET: Focused on identifying health disparities and highlighting solutions to address this issue, such as medical education, more training and funding, and fast-tracking research publication. Panelists include Susan C. Taylor, MD, Henry W. Lim, MD, and Maritza I. Perez, MD; the discussion will be moderated by Susan Saulny.
2. “Hair Disorders in People of Color,” Thursday, November 12 at 1:00 pm ET: Focused on the external and systemic diseases that can cause hair loss, and the need for physicians to understand the effect of ethnicity on the significance and cultural meaning of hair loss to better treat this critical problem. Panelists include Ncoza Dlova, MBChB, FCDerm, PhD and Andrew F. Alexis, MD, MPH; the discussion will be moderated by Amy McMichael, MD.
3. “Pigmentary Disorders and Keloids,” Wednesday, November 18 at 1:00 pm ET: Focused on sharing the latest research and treatment options on the breadth of pigmentary disorders and how these are often signs of systemic disease, causing serious psychological and social ramifications. Panelists include Seemal R. Desai, MD, FAAD, and Donald A. Glass II, MD, PhD; the discussion will be moderated by Pearl E. Grimes, MD.
4. “COVID-19 Comorbidities and Cutaneous Manifestations of Systemic Diseases in Adults and Children,” Wednesday, December 2 at 1:00 pm ET: Focused on the challenges of recognizing systemic diseases in melanin-rich skin types, and using skin signs of Covid-19 morbidities to demonstrate the need to improve diagnostic accuracy and efficiency in patients of color. Panelists include Lynn McKinley-Grant, MD, FAAD, Candrice R. Heath, MD, and Ginette A. Okoye, MD.
