Dr. Bertha Wexler Goldstein

- Born in New Orleans in 1913, the youngest of 10 children.
- Attended college, medical school, residency in Pediatrics at Tulane University
- Treated thousands of children for almost 50 years of practice.
- Well-rounded pediatrician as she cared for a large ambulatory population, rounded on hospitalized patients, and even made house-calls, accompanied by her husband, Nathan Goldstein, a General Internist.
- Work ethic above and beyond.
 - "Bertha treated patients from sun-up to sun-down and stopped only when the final patient was helped."
- Treated "all comers with enthusiasm" with no disregard to race or class during a time of segregation in New Orleans.
- Particular love for disabled children. Because of her dedication, Bertha's patients were extremely loyal.
- Passed away in 1986 and 30 years later her patients still sing her praise.
- Married for 48 years and had 2 children, her son of which is still a practicing General Pediatrician.
- Bertha's career during her era of practice helped pave a way for all women in medicine, leaving a lasting impact that is still felt today.

Dr. Rowena Spencer Pediatric Surgeon

- Born 1922
- First female surgical resident, Johns Hopkins
- First women surgeon in Louisiana
- First Pediatric surgeon (male or female) in Louisiana
- First woman in LSU Department of Surgery
- Expert in conjoined twins
